

High Speed Trolling Sure Way to Catch Day's Limit

Timid trolls only taunt cast 30 to 40 yards astern and fished close to the surface.

High speed rolling has almost become a "sure-fire" way of filling the day's limit among anglers in the Rocky Mountain region, report the fishing authorities at Mercury outboards. This "give 'er the gas" technique, while contrary to most ideas about trolling, is particularly effective at sundown when fish move into the shallows to feed on insects.

Commonly, a small spoon with a hammered gold and black finish is used. This is ACTUAL speeds depend upon conditions — wind action, underwater hazards, etc. On a straight run through a feeding area they may reach 10 mph. During turns it is desirable to rev up the engine in order to keep the lure at the same level as the line slackens and doubles back.

Often, trout will follow a spoon for some distance, repeatedly bumping it lightly. When this happens, a quick increase in speed usually provoke a solid strike.

Despite the commotion of boat traffic overhead, fish continue feeding with no apparent concern, observe the Mercury folks. During these mealtime speers lake-dwelling rainbows and browns show little fear of men and equipment.

So don't "spare the horses" the next time conditions are right. Most game fish can handle themselves quite well in an aquatic dish.

Tackle Carriers Big Load at ECC

Modern day Goliath, Dan Dye, El Camino College football player, solves a two-sport workout problem by lifting and throwing team members around the practice field.

He has his reasons. The 240 pound tackle, a defensive fixture of Coach Ken Swearingen's Warrior team, is also the number one shot-putter of Coach Ray Southstone's track squad.

"Mr. Power" is the best nomenclature for describing El Camino's outstanding field event man of the 1964 track season. Dye, as a freshman, propelled himself to the state junior college meet at Fresno last Spring with consistent heaves of over 50 feet.

As an accomplished high school field event man, the Hawthorne graduate paralleled his prep ability in college. Early last spring at an intramural exhibition, Dye smashed the school mark for the 16 pound shot by over 10 feet.

This strength carries over onto the football field. As a strong, mammoth tackle, opponents can be assured that Dye is an essential part of this year's football defensive line. That is, if the rest of the squad is still around after "Dye's workout."

Six Teams In Warner Schedule

Six Torrance Pop Warner teams compete Sunday at home and on the road.

Games at West High Stadium includes the Vikings against the Hawthorne Bees and the Mustangs against the Palos Verdes Lancers. A midweek division game pits the Chargers against the Hawthorne Hornets at home.

On the road the Oilers travel to Rolling Hills and the Knights are playing at Manhattan against the Sharks. The Midget Steelers and Hawthorne Wasps battle at Hawthorne High.

The Torrance Blue Devils, junior bantams, have a bye.

Runners in Double Win For North

North High won its first cross-country meet of the season by defeating Culver City, 21-36, at Culver City High.

First place was taken by Gordon MacBeath in the time of 9:14. The distance of the race was 1.8 miles.

The other North runners figuring in the scoring were Tom Foley (2), Rocky Setting (3), Paul Staff (7), and Pete Staff (8).

North will run at Leuzinger next Friday in a league race.

The jayvee score was 21-37 for North.

Colt Cagers Polish Up For Season

Coach Bob Ezell's Carson High Cagers are polishing-up for their second big season.

Graduation cost six men to the varsity squad — Pat Holmes, Lee Miller, Gary Roller, Mike McFarland, Bob Crisp and Ken Fenton.

Team balance is Carson's greatest strength. Steve Mead's 13 point average for last season speaks for itself. Harvey Holmes (nine point average) is an outstanding outside shooter and free throw man. Nick VanLue, a good rebounder, scales 6-3 and possesses a terrific left hand shot. Buddy Brown, another handy rebounder, gives the Colts strength in those shots around the basket.

Junior Joe Mingura is an all around defense man with speed and precision shooting.

Subs for the Colt five are also capable. Randy Hale and Dale Davidson are up from the Jayvees plus Bee team recruit John Halbert.

Marine league competition looks fairly even. Jordan, last year's league champs lost most of its winning team through graduation.

Confronted with the question of prospects for the Colt five this season, Coach Ezell said: "They'll be among the top." When asked where among the top he replied: "The very top."
